

Beach Club Is Setting For Concert

Music devotees are invited to attend the second concert of the Pacific Coast Arts Center Conservatory of Music, which will be given at the Hollywood Riviera Beach Club Friday evening. There is no admission charge for the concert which will feature four young virtuosos of violin, Gracie Secrist, A. B. Johnson, Maurice Glick and Douglas Johnson, all student of Josef Piastro, founder and director of the conservatory. The program will include two ensemble works, "Concerto in D minor for two violins" by J. S. Bach, and "Duet in G minor" by Charles De Beriot. Also there will be solo presentations of the works of Bloch, Faure, Schubert, Achron, Wieniawski and Sarasate. Miss Jeanne Ho, student of Ernst Hofzimmer, will play "Three Etudes" by Chopin and Miss Thelma D., student of Fedor Gontzoff, will sing arias and songs by Ponoudy, Scott and Ponchielli. Miss Catherine Smith will play Bach's "Piano Concerto." The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

NORTHERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Colombo, Jangene and Danny report an enjoyable vacation in San Francisco where they visited Mr. Colombo's parents. En route to their destination, the vacationers visited Big Basin and spent some time in Yosemite National Park, Bass Lake and other scenic points on their return trip.

Voyager Is Feted

Nan, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Humphries, 1324 Crenshaw boulevard, left Saturday morning for a month's vacation. The lucky little girl accompanied her grandmother, Mrs. Leona Louis, of Los Angeles on the vacation trip. They will motor to Seattle and from there will embark for a 16-days cruise to Alaska. Complimenting Nan, Constance Walton entertained at a slumber party in her home with Ann Steinbaugh and Linda Thistle completing the foursome. Another going away party in her honor was a surprise handkerchief shower given at her home by a group of school friends, including Norma Rowe, Irene Heath, Constance Walton, Maurion Bradford, Linda Thistle, Jofran Ruben, Patricia Bregar and Joy Jolly. The circular stairway leading to the Humphries rear lawn provided a perfect stage setting for the hilarious skits presented by the girls. Refreshments were served.

FASHION WISE . . . Charles C. Waldo, dynamic young Hollywood fashion designer, who comes tonight at the request of Paul Diamond, Gay Shop proprietor, to direct the "Personality Plus" charm lecture sponsored by the local YWCA. Feature of the evening will be a preview style showing of new fall dresses available at the popular Gay Shop. Lovely professional Hollywood models will show the casual and dressy dresses both for evening and daytime wear suitable for ladies desiring that youthful look.

NOTED DESIGNER TO BE PRESENTED AT YW CLASS

At tonight's meeting of the Y.W.C.A. sponsored "Personality Plus" course, the local Gay Shop, of which Paul Diamond is the proprietor, joins forces with the YW to bring to the girls of this community Waldo, designer of movie studio, and "high-class" shop fame. Waldo is now head designer for "Miss Hollywood, Jr." one of the most outstanding lines of misses' clothing in the west. With Waldo to present this "sneak preview" of the Gay Shop's fall attractions in clothing will be two professional models who will show the designs to their best advantage. Mrs. Elaine Hostmark director of the Torrance YWCA, stated today that all girls of this community, regardless of whether or not they are registered for the "Personality Plus" course, are cordially invited and urged to join the class members tonight to witness the presentation of these creations offered in this community by this man of movie studio and exclusive shop fame. Waldo's fashion review will take place promptly at 7:15 tonight at the Central Guild Hall, Arlington at Marcelina avenues. Nick Thomas, Long Beach hair stylist, will demonstrate his art at the July 28 session of "Personality Plus." The final session will be a trip to the Caroline Leonetti studio in Hollywood on July 28. Guests may attend this trip if they sign up this week at the YWCA office, 1339 Post avenue, Torrance, Phone 1356, Mrs. Hostmark stated.

Popular Montanan Is Feted

Mrs. E. M. Johnston, of 1404 Engracia avenue, was a gracious hostess when she entertained at luncheon Friday Mrs. H. A. Ames, of Great Falls, Montana, sister of Mrs. John Keefer. At the luncheon table, lovely with yellow pompon dahlias in a silver bowl, and matching candles, places were arranged for the honor guest and Meses. Keefer, O. A. Kresse, Paul M. Watson, M. J. Beale, John Disario, John T. Oursler, and the hostess. Following luncheon, knitting occupied the ladies until late afternoon when they left to attend the Torrance Memorial Hospital open house. The party was among many lovely affairs arranged during the week for the Montana visitor. On Wednesday, accompanied by Mrs. Keefer and Mrs. Kresse, she visited Fox Studios. The ladies were guests of General Ira Eakers, U. S. Army (Ret.). Mr. and Mrs. Keefer and Mrs. Ames motored to Laguna Beach Sunday.
